D&W named Who's Who Law Firm of the Year

Leading UK law firm Dundas & Wilson has been named for the second year running Law Firm of the Year 2007: Scotland in the Who's Who Legal Awards 2007.

The awards, published in The International Who's Who of Business Lawyers 2007, recognise the country's best law firms based on the findings of a six month independent research process taking input from clients and private practice professionals.

Who's Who editor-in-chief Callum Campbell said: "It is an outstanding achievement to win the Who's Who Legal; The International Who's Who of Business Lawyers Scotland Law Firm of the Year Award for a second time.

"D&W's continuing success demonstrates its consistent and unparalleled level of individual and collective talent. We have no hesitation in declaring D&W the leading firm in Scotland."

Alan Campbell, managing partner at D&W, said: "This award carries a great amount of prestige so we're extremely pleased to have been recognised again as the country's top law firm.

"What makes this so valuable is the input from clients and other third parties, which shows that our commitment to first-class client service is being noticed in the marketplace. We're very focused on maintaining that quality as the practice grows throughout the UK."
